

Published based on The Power Of Hunter Wellies

The Power Of Hunter Wellies

Gone are the days of us girls only having a choice of ghastly looking boots that were purely made for a practical use. Today, the market is (thankfully) flooded with endless options of pretty, yet functional boots. Leading the pack are Fly London boots and Hunter Wellies, a brand marked by tradition and effortless glamour. Simply slip on a pair of Hunter boots and you are transformed into a chic, fashion-forward girl.

Hunter has always been known as a shoe label with a strong British heritage and defined image. Since the first pair was created by Henry Lee Norris in 1856, they have been associated with the qualities of comfort and durability. Made over 150 years ago with the sole intention of helping the wearer overcome Britain's hostile weather, today it has taken on a new role of sorts. Whether you're in the countryside or traipsing through the city streets, you can do so with your head held high when you've got a pair of these on your feet. This is because you'll be confident that you look the part everywhere you go. Hunter wellies are now widely-regarded as an on-trend and undoubtedly fashionable shoe make. They even bear the stamp of approval of royalty and celebrities.

Hunter Wellies have made the news in recent years for being the footwear of choice for many celebrities and commoners attending British music festivals. Glastonbury is one that has repeatedly made headlines, with the likes of Kate Moss proudly parading her Hunter boots through the muddy terrain. The brand has also collaborated with other top shoe labels, including Carnaby, Jimmy Choo and Argyll to create new and exciting designs. It has even branched out with an extensive range of accessories that sum up the beloved Hunter look and feel. You can now customise your wellies with a warm and fuzzy Hunter fleece welly sock, just what you need for the winter months!

You can also find this article published on The Power Of Hunter Wellies, and on the tag pages choice, hunter, hunter boots, Hunter Wellies, pair, sole intention.